Training is an integral part of user adoption. Alithya's dedicated training team is uniquely suited to help you create your training strategy, and training content for any type of project. We do this by working with you to understand how you currently train and what your pain points are in terms of content creation. The outcome is a customized training program designed specifically for you, and it is all based around our Training Methodology

Training Readiness Methodology

Everything we recommend around training revolves around this readiness methodology and it is the center of our sessions together. In a nutshell, it is a coaching program that matches our dedicated training team with your company to create a training action plan. By the end of your project, you will:

- Create a training communication initiative
- Know how you will train your team with a customized training plan
- Utilize best practices to train your team using our training rehearsal method

We include this in any new any new Microsoft implementation or upgrade project; and we can adapt it to any other type of project you do with us.

Custom Content Creation

Along with our training readiness sessions, our team can also help your company create almost any type of custom training content. Our team has created: eLearning video content, microvideos, practice simulations, slide decks, training guides and more.

The key to training success is our content development process, which has been developed over time to ensure we capture the information needed from your subject matter expert and/or our consulting team.

Please note that if you would like to see a customer video example you will need to contact us. We currently have examples for D365 CE, Power BI and D365 Finance and Operations. We can also send you a sample of a training guide if you are interested in learning more.

"Training is the essential backbone of being able to implement well. We have learned the hard way and are so inspired by how Alithya was able to make it fluid, yet concise and brief."
